ORIGIN OF PHOSPHORUS

(Washington Cor. New York Sun)

Phosphorus, one of the most important elements required by plants, is obtained from phosphate rock, which is mined in many places in the United States and in foreign countries. Florida supplies most of the product of the United States, and its output exceeded that of any foreign country. The normal annual output of Florida in recent years has valued at between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000.

A most interesting question is the mode of origin of the rock. Examination of samples dredged from the bottom of the sea show that there are now accumulating in the Florida Straits and elsewhere nodules of phosphate of lime which are identical in composition with the pure phosphate rock of commerce.

The process of formation of these phosphate nodules is not thoroughly understood, but is believed to be in some manner connected with living organisms that swarm in sea water in countless numbers. These marine organisms appear to have been especially abundant long ago when the peninsula of Florida was completely submerged beneath the sea and the waves from the Atlantic rolled unimpeded into the Gulf of Mexico, for the sands which were then deposited on the bottom of the sea and have since been converted into dry land contain many nodules of phosphate rock that are in all respects similar to those being formed today. These phosphatic sands contain in most places too little phosphate to be of commercial value, but they are believed to be the source from which the important deposits of Florida phosphate rock have been derived.

During the later stages of the accumulation of these sands Florida was inhabited by some very large animals that are now either extinct or known only in other continents. Among these were the mastodon and rhinoceros. The teeth of these animals, together with those of species of horses that have entirely disappeared, have been uncovered in some of the deposits.

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the carol of the lark; the dew of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

Yours for, $3.00, $4.00 and $6.00 per gallon. Sold only by

In this grand chorus of local praise Maysville is well represented. Well-known Maysville people Tell of personal experiences.

Who can ask for better proof of merit? Mrs. Dora Mefford, Maysville, says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long, I felt stronger and better and I slept good at night."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mefford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

CURIOUS WAGERS

(Answers)

In the "good old days" extraordinary wagers were more common than they are today. In 1870, for instance, Lord Digby staked 50 that he would walk five miles round Newmarket Heath in a certain time, barefooted and stark naked, and had the misfortune of losing by the narrow margin of half a minute, the King and all the court being witnesses of the performance.

In the latter half of the eighteenth century a Liverpool scientist bet a brother scientist that he would read a newspaper by the light of a farthing dip at a distance of 30 feet. The wager was cheerfully accepted. The first scientist merely coated the inside of a shallow wooden box with sloping pieces of looking glass, so as to form a concave lens, placed it behind the farthing dip, and easily read the small print at the distance named. The winning of the wager was witnessed by a Liverpool dockmaster, who ultimately applied the idea to lighthouse requirements and evolved the modern reflected light.

About two years ago, during a yachting trip of members of the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board, Mr. A. W. Willmer, a leading Liverpool cotton broker, was presented with a pair of wooden shoes for his birthday, and another member of the board offered to contribute a sum of money to two charities if Mr. Willmer would go to the Cotton Exchange wearing them. For sweet charity's sake Mr. Willmer appeared on Change wearing the wooden shoes and the stakes were handed over to him.

Perhaps the limit was reached in a certain town in Canada, where a man propelled a green pea with a toothpick for about 80 yards along the pavement within half an hour of the stipulated time and won his wager.

WATER A STIMULANT

(Seattle Post Intelligencer)

German efficiency is not much due to its biltur as to the national habit of water bathing, according to the testimony of Dr. Simon Baruch, who feels that its broader use in America would be of great service. There will be small disagreement with Dr. Baruch in his general championship for the cold water propaganda. With in recent years the habit has spread greatly among Americans whose daily pursuits bring tired bodies and fatigued nerves, and the stimulating qualities of a cold shower before beginning the day's work are generally recognized. Ancient Rome and Greece, in the height of their power, were bathing nations, and efficient Japan is a modern example of the benefits of the cold water propaganda. Germany has, for many years, made the public bath a common institution. In 1910 there were 205 German towns with public pools and 210 had shower baths.

WHAT PINEAPPLE JUICE WILL DO

Pineapple juice and pepin are now extensively used in the treatment of stomach and bowel troubles. They give strength and tone to the digestive organs. NOTES FROM RUGGLES

J. H. R. Writes Interesting Letter of Happening at Picturesque and Famous Old Campgrounds.

There has been so many inquiries this year as to the exact age of Ruggles Campmeeting that we feel constrained to give just a little of its early history. In the year 1872 Rev. H. J. Northcott who was then presiding elder of the Maysville district, and Rev. H. J. Ramey pastor of the Mt. Olivet church, endeavored to secure a location in Robertson county for a campmeeting. In this they failed. On the following year, Rev. Ramey was appointed to the Toleboro church and Rev. Northcott continued as presiding elder. Their efforts were renewed to secure a location for a campmeeting. They succeeded in securing consent for a location about three and one-half miles from the present campgrounds. Just as they were about to arrange for the meetings, by some hitch consent to use the grounds was withdrawn. Not to be deprived of a campmeeting they held a week's campmeeting at Canaan church, about one mile from Ruggles campgrounds. This was in 1873. Search for a location continued, and just when they were about ready to give up their efforts Mr. William Ruggles came forward with an offer of a twenty-acre tract of ground to lease for a period of ten years with privilege of renewal. This tract is Ruggles Campgrounds. An Association was formed, a charter secured and arrangements made for a campmeeting, the first on Ruggles Campgrounds, in the year 1874. The meetings were held at the appointed time and have been held regularly every year since. Great good has come from these meetings. Many men and women date the beginning of their Christian life to the meetings at this place. Thousands will testify to the blessings received at the meetings. It is quite interesting to read from the records of the part that Maysville people have had in the meetings. The historical records tell us that "Several from Maysville built family tents the first year. Among them Brothers Roberts, Lane, Brodt, Walsh, Sisters Morris and others." A few people have never missed a year attending. The president of the Board of Directors, Mr. I. M. Lane, whom all love and respect, has not missed a year, and has been in active control of the business affairs of the Association for so many years that he can't tell himself when he first began.

And so we can say by authority of the "book" that this is the forty-second campmeeting at Ruggles Campgrounds.

WHEN IMPOSSIBLE HAPPENS

(Philadelphia Ledger)

How often the thing which the wise experts say cannot possibly happen happens! No man-eating sharks, and yet within one week two men are killed at New Jersey coast resorts by those sea monsters!

No hydrophobia, but we read constantly of persons dying as a direct result of a dog bite! No peril in that fireproof building, but all of us have seen just such buildings fall down in the flames! I've heard doctors say that no American snake's poison was fatal, but I also knew personally a man who was bitten by a rattler and was dead in 24 hours.

There are 150 kinds of sharks. Some of them live a mile deep in the ocean. The basking shark in the North Atlantic grows to a length of 30 feet. Indo-Pacific sharks have been seen 50 feet long. Relics of ancient sharks 90 feet long have been found.

Mothers in some of the smaller breeds of Atlantic sharks have 12 baby sharks in a year, usually in the autumn.

Sailors have seen a shark follow a sailing ship for two weeks.

At Aden, where the Red Sea pours through a narrow strait into the Indian Ocean, I saw little naked Arab boys diving for coins on one side of our ship, while sharks were swimming on the other side.

One of these boys had but one leg, and the Captain of our ship told us that a shark had once taken the other leg. That was the finest example of courage I have ever witnessed.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS BEGIN SESSION

Moonlight schools will begin their session on Monday evening, August 14th, throughout the State. The session will run for twenty-four evenings, four evenings each week, the hours being from seven to nine o'clock. The Kentucky Literacy Commission, Frankfort, Kentucky, furnishes instructions and equipment for such schools. Teachers are volunteering by the thousands and many counties are setting a high aim.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by P. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. HOW TO KEEP YOUR CAR FROM BEING STOLEN

"Many little things can be done to an automobile," says a writer in Farm and Fireside, "to prevent a thief from running away with it, yet owners take surprisingly few precautions to prevent theft or joy-riding."

"Always disconnect the ignition system or lock the gear lever. It is a good plan never to leave the car in an alley or inconspicuous side street. A record should be made of the factory number, and any little peculiarities of the car, as well as the style and make of the different tires. More cars are stolen at night in large crowds and while the owner is at the theater than at any other time."

"If you can arrange to short-circuit the ignition system or the starting system in an unusual way, it will puzzle the thief and probably frustrate the attempt."
